

I am sick of you bowing down to the baby bells and local phone carriers. Quest could care less about the quality of the lines here. It seems every time you people make a ruling, prices go up and quality goes down. As a small investor and businessman I am tired of getting hit every time in the pocketbook by these muddled rulings.